Boston, Sept. 5—The American fliers passed over Bar Harbor, Me., at 3:15 p. m., eastern daylight time, according to a radio to the navy yard here.

Aboard the U. S. S. Richmond Off Cape Ann, Sept. 5—The round-the-world fliers are now headed toward Boston possibly two hours away from their destination.

The three planes flying in formation passed over the U. S. S. Lawrence at 6:30 p. m. standard time.
The Lawrence is stationed between St. John and Cape Ann.

Boston, Sept. 5—Boston declared a virtual holiday to welcome the American round-the-world fliers to their home land.

Thousands of visitors began pouring into the city in the early morning and there was a general exodus toward east Boston air port where the heroes are expected about mid-afternoon, as word is flashed in from ship stations that the planes are drawing near. An air squadron headed by General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, will soar out to meet them, picking up the round-the-world planes about three hours out of the city. One of the planes, a Curtiss pursuit speedster, piloted by R.
Curtis Moffatt, will hurtle back to Boston at high speed as soon as the world airmen are sighted to notify the public that their arrival is at hand.

As their planes settle into the waters, anti-aircraft guns will soar out the presidential salute of twenty-one shots and the ceremonies will follow.

River Baptist Congregation Was Almost Completed

OLD ONE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire proof construction prevented the complete destruction of the Blue River Baptist church Wednesday night, when the new edifice, which is nearing completion, was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars by a fire of unknown origin.

The fire spent its force, and went out and when workmen entered the church Thursday morning the discovery was made. The church building was completely destroyed a few months ago by fire, and a modern new building is being built.

The church is located about 7 miles northwest of here. The dedication services were to be held within a few weeks, and construction was about completed. The interior was being varnished and a can of varnish is believed to have ignited after the workmen left Wednesday night. The varnish was destroyed, and the fumes ruined the interior decorations. Two beautiful church glasses and window casings were destroyed, and a large hole burned in the floor. Most of the new building is fire proof, and this prevented the blaze from spreading.
Insurance was carried on the building, which will cover the loss.

GIVEN HONORABLE MENTION

Elaine Warrick in Fair Home Economics School Contest

Miss Elaine Warrick, daughter of Frank Warrick, living north of Rushville, received honorable mention in the state fair home economics school in Indianapolis this week.
The winners of the university scholarships and other honor awards were announced Thursday evening at a dinner for all of the girls attending the school.

At a meeting of the Purdue University Alumni Association Thursday, Frank Beale of Clarksburg was elected a member of the advisory board. A number of Rush county graduates and former students of the university attended the annual session.

ONE REGISTRATION DAY IN THE COUNTY

Persons Who Have Changed Precincts or Become of Age Since

TO BE HELD MONDAY, OCT. 6

Boards Will be in Session in Each Voting Precinct—Two Other Me-

Registration Facts

One Registration Day in Rush County—Monday, October 6.

All who have changed precincts since the registration two years ago and all who have become of age since the last election should register.

It is necessary to register before you can vote.
Registration boards will be in session in every voting precinct of the county on Registration Day.

Because a registration of voters will be held in Indianapolis Saturday some confusion exists in the minds of Rush county voters regarding registration.

Only one registration Day will be held in Rush county this year, and that will be on Monday, October 6, twenty-nine days before the election, which will enable everyone to qualify for voting.

The law of 1923 changed the registration law so that it would not be necessary for every voter to register for each election, and thus do away with much trouble and expense.

It provides that if three hundred or more voters petition for a registration, one shall be held. This provision is to meet the situation in large centers of population where bringing the registration books up to date would be practically impossible.

The law makes it incumbent for the county health commissioner to certify to the county auditor the names of all persons of voting age who have
their names may be removed from the records.

It also provides that the clerk of the circuit court shall certify to the auditor the names of all who have been disfranchised by order of the court since the last election.

The auditor will in turn certify these names to the registration boards who will make up the registration records for each precinct.

Voters who will not be home on Registration Day or who will not have the time to register at the regular registering place, may follow one of two methods in registering beforehand.

They may obtain a blank at the county auditor's office, fill it out and have it sworn to before a notary public. It should be filed with the county auditor and he will certify it to the precinct in which it belongs on Registration Day.

A voter may also comply with the law by registering with a blank signed by two voters living in the same precinct, but it must be delivered to the registration board on Registration Day.

The registration boards in each precinct will consist of one inspector and one clerk. The inspectors will be the same as those appointed this week for the general election.

Returns From Tour of Europe on Same Boat With Prince of Wales

Miss Henrietta Coleman of This City, Who Sponsored a Party of Tourists, Has Distinction of Returning with the Prince on S. S. Berengaria.
The Party Also Had Honor of Catching a Glimpse of the Royal Family in Spain. Ten Weeks Were Actively Spent by the Tourists

"Next to getting shipwrecked, I think that probably the most exciting experience which one can have on the ocean is to travel on the same
Miss Henrietta Coleman, in commenting on her recent European trip. Miss Coleman, who has charge of the art department in the Rushville public schools, returned here last Sunday after a ten weeks trip to the Continent, where she toured France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland, as guide for a party of twenty-one Americans. The party returned on the S. S. Berengaria, which was the ship on which His Royal Highness made the trip to America.

Miss Coleman stated that the Prince seemed very democratic and friendly, and although he was formally presented to only a few of his fellow passengers, he entered heartily into their activities. At all times, however, he was surrounded by members of his own party, and even in the tug-of-war, which is a favorite sport aboard ship, one of his personal companions pulled on the rope in front of him and one behind him.

GEN. OMAR BUNDY TO ATTEND

To Be Present for Defense Day Celebration in Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—Mayor General Omar Bundy, Hoosier General who refused to obey orders to retreat during the second battle of the Marne, probably will attend the celebration of Defense Day here, Fred A. Sims, chairman announced today.

General Bundy is stationed at Columbus, Ohio, and the war department has agreed to give him a leave to attend, according to a telegram from Postmaster General New.

ally in a grey lounge suit, blue shirt,

In Paris, Miss Coleman's party caught their first glimpse of royalty when they saw the Queen of Spain and her two daughters.

In France, the party also attended

Teachers Association to Have G.
O. P. Candidate Removed

IS LED BY OSCAR WILLIAMS

of School Paper Takes All Blame
for Alleged Delinquencies

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—Clyde A. Walb, Republican state chairman, today declared he would pay no attention to charges against H. N.
Sherwood of Franklin, Republican candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—A drive to force removal of H. N. Sherwood, of Franklin, from the Republican ticket as candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, was being made today by the Indiana teachers' federation.

Oscar Williams, representing officers of the federation, appeared before Clyde Walb, Republican state chairman, yesterday to present charges that Sherwood and William Blackburn, of Indianapolis, had used questionable methods in collecting subscriptions for an educational magazine they formerly published.

Williams indicated that presentation of the charges was to pave the way for a formal demand from the teacher's association that Sherwood

to accept money for subscriptions long after their paper, the Educational Issue, had suspended publication, according to the charges made by Williams.

Answering Williams' charges, Blackburn said if there had been any

ATTACKING FORCE CLOSE TO CAPITAL

General Yuan's Army, Bent on Storming Shanghai, Drives Forward to

Three American Destroyers Dispatched to Protect American Settlement From Invaders

(By United Press)

Shanghai, China, Sept. 5—General
Yuan's forces bent on storming Shanghai, drove forward late today in a new advance that brought them close to the Woo Sung forts, ten miles from the city.

Heavy firing along the front where General Lu's defending troops were falling back, was heard throughout the day.

Three of the American destroyers at Shanghai were dispatched to Woo Sung, where they took up position near the forts and were preparing to land marines to guard the border of the American settlement if the defending armies retreated farther.

So far no landing parties have gone ashore from the United States ships.

The native city was panic stricken by the advance of the enemy. Business was suspended and Chinese flooded to the foreign settlements, which were undisturbed save by the presence of the terrified refugees.

had spread along the entire battle front.

This advancing troops burned Quin-san, where many of the defense troops and some civilians were killed and wounded.

About 200 wounded, among them several civilians, arrived here today.
Airlines belonging to the attacking forces bombed Nansiang.

Word reached Shanghai that part of Lu's fleet which sailed from here yesterday probably would meet a rival fleet which put out from Nanking and that an engagement might be expected at Li Ho.

Foreign warships now are extended along the ten mile water front at Shanghai.

VETERAN'S FUNERAL TODAY

Services For Former Carthage Man Are Held Today

Henry Morris, age 82, Civil War veteran, and for many years a resident of northwest of Carthage, died Wednesday at North Madison and his body was brought to Carthage this afternoon for services and interment.

At one time he operated a saw mill at Carthage, and later moved to the farm. He was a birthright member of the Friends Church at Carthage.
In the Civil War he was a member of the 134th Ind. Vol. Regt.

Services this afternoon were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gibson, near Carthage, and burial

Memorial Park

The accompanying cut represents the Defense Day Shield especially designed by Gen. L. R. Gignilliat, commander at the Culver Military Academy, for use in Indiana on Defense Day. The design was approved by the state committee appointed by Gov.
Branch to prepare plans for the demonstration of Indiana's defense resources on September 12. The emblem is especially appropriate for use as a badge of honor by all who enroll for service on Defense Day.

Col. F. W. Glover, secretary of the Indiana committee, states that it should be fully understood that the enrollment of men of military age on Defense Day is purely voluntary and for one day only. Such enrollment in no way obligates the person for military service, the purpose being to secure a voluntary demonstration of the willingness of the American people give their services and resources in defense of the country in case of emergency.

The various committees appointed by County Chairman Vorhees Cavitt to prepare plans, and a program for Defense Test Day, are arranging for a demonstration at Memorial park, Rushville, in which all the townships are invited to participate in a county

Chicago, Sept. 5—Russell Scott, 22, of Detroit and Cleveland, awaiting trial for murder, was charged today with plotting his own escape and the freeing of others from the county jail where Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb are waiting sentence for killing Bobby Franks. A long rope, made from a suit of clothes, was found in his cell, two floors under the cells of Leopold and Loeb, Warden Wesley Westbrook announced.

An earlier report to Westbrook stated the rope was found in the cell of two other murderers.
Westbrook said he was confident that neither Leopold nor Loeb was involved.

He had been in business in Carthage for about 36 years, and conducted a

He retired from the grocery busi-

PURDUE TRIALS SHOW SILEAGE CUTS COST OF PRODUCING MILK

A comparison between two dairy rations, one consisting of alfalfa hay, a good grain mixture but no silage, made at the Purdue University Agricultural Experiment station showed that the ration containing a succulent roughage produced milk for fifteen cents per hundred pounds less than the no-silage ration, and animals fed this ration maintained their live weight during the test while the cows receiving the no-silage ration lost in live weight. The two rations were compared under similar conditions and were conducted in such a way that they apply to any dairy farm in Indiana.

The grain ration consisted of a mixture of ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran, gluten feed, and cottonseed meal. The grain was fed according to the amount of milk produced daily. The alfalfa hay was fed at the rate of two pounds per day for each hundred pounds live weight with the no-silage ration, while only half this amount was fed with the silage ration. Silage was fed according to the live weight of the animals, about three pounds being allowed daily for each hundred pounds live weight.

Records were kept of the milk and buttermilk produced. The animals were so selected that the two groups (4 cows in each group) produced practically the same amounts of milk at the start. Group 1, or the silage fed group, increased their production for a short time while the other group began to decrease in production immediately.

As the stage of lactation advanced, the production would of necessity decrease but Group 1 maintained their production much more evenly and over a longer period than the other group. The difference in maintaining live weight must also be considered. Group 1 maintained their live weight, while the other group lost about one and one-half pounds per animal per day during the time the no-silage ration was fed. This loss in live weight was not due to under-feeding. When calculated according to modern feeding standards, the no silage ration provided 53 per cent more protein than the required amount, and 35 per cent more than the ration fed to Group 1.

The feed required to produce 100 pounds of milk by each ration is of importance. Group 1 (silage group) required 25.8 pounds grain, 39.3 pounds hay, and 11.29 pounds silage for each 100 pounds of milk produced. Group 2 required 27.5 pounds grain and 88.4 pounds hay. This shows that 119.2 silage replaced 49.1 pounds of hay and 1.7 pounds of grain. Figuring grain at $2.00 per hundred and alfalfa at $15.00 per ton the silage returned $6.75 per ton. But this is not all. Group 1 produced 15 per cent more milk during the test than the no-silage group.

The comparison between the two rations indicates three advantages in favor of the use of silage in the ration:

1. Saving in the cost of production of 15 cents per hundred pounds of milk.

2. Maintaining live weight of animals.

3. Increase of 15 per cent in milk production.

The results of this comparison would seem to indicate the advisability of more general use of silage in Indiana. This is especially true where a liberal supply of alfalfa hay is not available and the corn crop is not ensiled. Not only is the corn feeder less palatable than the silage but considerable waste occurs when the crop is being fed during the winter.

Silos offer splendid opportunity for conserving crops that are not fully matured. Large acreages of corn had to be replanted this season. Unless the growing season is unusually long, much of this will fail to mature. If cut and placed in a silo, and feeding value will be increased and the feeding period will be greatly extended.

During the past four years the number of silos has decreased while the number of cows has increased 30,000, Indiana, situated in the corn belt produces large quantities of corn annually, which if ensiled would form one of the best and most satisfactory roughage known to dairy-men. It requires less barn room to house the crop as silage than as fodder; the feed is much more uniform in quality; less waste occurs in feeding, and a feed of greater palatability is produced.

Silage is a valuable feed in the ration providing succulence, bulk, and palatability. Every Hoosier dairyman should provide silage for his herd, and thus insure more efficient production, which will in turn result in increased profit.

TO SPEAK IN INDIANA

FRANK O. LOWDEN

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—Everett Sanders, director of the speakers bureau of the Republican national organization, has assigned Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, and Theodore Roosevelt to make speeches in Indiana during the campaign. It was announced today at state headquarters.

Former Governor Morrow of Kentucky and a dozen other "spell-binders" have already been assigned to the state.

POULTRY SHIPPED TO JAPAN

Indiana Chickens Highly Thought of In The Orient

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 5—Indiana cooking and hogs are to be purchased for stocking Japanese farms.

A group of Japanese farmers who are in this country purchased livestock with which to stock certain Japanese farms, will be at Purdue university next week to buy White Leghorn hens, according to word received here today.

Several Leghorns were bought from the university last year and they gave such uniform good results as egg producers and also in shows that they have been held in the orient that more will be obtained, according to the word.

The Japanese have also asked for help from university animal husbandry men in purchasing pure-bred hogs from Hoosier breeders.

Prince Attends the Races

The Prince of Wales went to the races at Belmont Park, L. I., as plain "Edward Windsor." But that didn't fool folks in the slightest. The heir to the British throne was having a wonderful time until an army of cameramen took up his trail. He is seen here conversing with his hostess, Mrs. August Belmont, looking all the world like a bashful schoolboy.

Mysteries of The Ancients

The Department of Agriculture of Egypt has seeds which were found in age-proof containers in the tomb of King Tutankhamen which they will endeavor to propagate at their Agricultural Research Laboratories. These seeds may represent heretofore containing medicinal properties that this age and generation knows not of. It was the simple roots and herbs of the field that half a century ago produced Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has never been equalled in overcoming ailments peculiar to women.

There is one bit of testimony presented at the coroner's inquest into the Herrin (Ill.) "klan murders" which will not go into the records exactly the way it was given. It concerns Jane Lasater, official stenographer at the inquisition. Miss Lasater had to listen to Charles Denham, sitting right across from her, accuse her of being present at the rioting in front of Smith's garage. Denham, an admitted klanman, said she was in an automobile occupied by State's Attorney Delos L. Doty and City Judge E. W. Bowen, and that Doty and Bowen fired at klanmen. Miss Lasater's face registered both scorn and amusement as Denham made his charge. Just back of her may be seen a young militiaman, wearing a steel helmet and with bayonet in gun, standing guard during the proceedings.

FLIERS SIGHTED ALONG U. S. COAST

The first to take the air, rising from the water at 11:17 a. m. (correct) eastern daylight time and circling over the bay for their long flight to Boston.

Lieut. Wade was having trouble with the Boston II and was still taxing back and forth.

At 11:30 Wade was still having trouble, unable to get his machine to take the air.

Smith and Nelson continued hovering over him.

The ill luck which has attended Wade since the start for the Orkneys continued. He taxied back and forth using every trick known in an effort to get the heavy Boston II to take the air.

Observers thought the machine might be burdened too heavy with oil and gas. Smith and Nelson circled slowly overhead, obviously determined to give their comrade every opportunity to get away with them, although they were wasting valuable time.

A telephone message from the eastern end of Peconic opposite the lighthouse said the Boston left the water just after passing the light station.

The planes finally disappeared in the haze to the eastward at 11:44.

Owing to poor visibility it was impossible to tell at the moment whether Lieut. Wade had succeeded in getting the Boston II off the water but since the droning of his motor could not be heard it was assumed he had managed to get the machine in the air and was on the way to Boston with his companions.

William Duff, Hartford City, Accused of Causing Boy's Death

Hartford City, Ind., Sept. 5.—William Duff, 17, whose blow during a fist fight caused the death of Raymond Morris, 18, another high school student, was released from the Blackford county jail today under light bond.

Sheriff Goodrich granted the plea of the boy's mother and released him pending grand jury investigation of the killing. No formal charges had been filed against Duff. Prosecutor Maddox said he expected an indictment of manslaughter would be returned by the grand jury, which meets Monday.

Funeral services for Morris were held today.

The fatal fight followed an attempted hazing of Morris' young brother, Benjamin.

The Rewards of Work

The appointment of Seymour Parker Gilbert at the age of 31 years to be general agent of the reparations commission, which will work out the Dawes-Young plan, is a lesson for every young man, because it shows the possibilities of hard work.

Young Gilbert started out early to work and his industry and application to detail soon brought him rewards that did not come to capable men far beyond his years.

After taking numerous college degrees, he became associated with a New York firm, where his ability was soon recognized. He was summoned to Washington to assist in the intricate transactions of the government, having to do with the foreign loans, and became the most trusted subordinate of Secretaries Glass and Houston.

Gilbert is credited with having written the veto message which President Wilson sent to congress; disapproving the legislative apportionment bill, which was sustained by congress.

When the administration changed hands, Secretary Mellon created for him the office of undersecretary of the treasury, in charge of fiscal affairs of the treasury department.

The amazing ability of this astounding young man to grasp details is explained by his devotion to work.
While others of his age were wasting their time in the evening, he was at his desk working out the problems that fell to his office.

He regarded holidays as good days to work. He made very few excusions into the realms of gold and when he did perform some social obligation, he returned to his office and worked well into the night.

Any young man can accomplish as great results in proportion to his talents. No success comes without diligent and sustained effort.

This is the thing every boy will have to learn if he expects to do anything of consequence in his chosen field of endeavor.

High School Hazing

A Hartford City boy was killed in a fight growing out of an effort to protect his younger brother who was the victim of a high school hazing.

With the opening of school, the practice of hazing the "Fresh" will be at its height.

In moderation, it would not be subject to condemnation, but the tendency of boys is to carry it to extreme.

When boys lives are sacrificed for a silly custom, it is time that some drastic methods be devised to put an end to hazing.

High school boys think it is an essential part of their education because their older college brothers do it, but it is far from necessary.

Colleges have banned some of the barbaric tactics that were once employed to put the freshman through his paces and high schools that have been suffering the custom to be continued each year will have to take similar steps.

Bootleg Bonds

A tax-free bond is a bootleg bond in that the profit to its owner, through escaping all taxes, fails to pay its just share toward government, just as the profits from bootleg whisky fail to pay their share of government expense.

The tax-free bond is legal, however, while bootleg liquor is not, but in both instances the government loses revenue from the profits in the transaction.

Simple justice demands that our laws be changed so that the profits from future issues of public bonds may be taxed. They would always command a lower interest rate than private bonds on account of their greater security.

Why permit the profits from this class of securities to remain on a bootleg basis—that is, with no return to the government, which necessitates other taxpayers carrying a double burden to maintain the cost of government?

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAYFrom Daily Republican Monday, Sept. 6, 1909

Three women and a man were spilled in the road near Arlington when their horse scared at a motorcycle ridden by the deputy auditor of Hancock county, Mr. and Mrs.
William Brown, Mrs. Lydia Gregg
and Mrs. Brown's cousin, Miss Brown of Cincinnati, were on their way to the home of John McCoy to spend the day and had almost reached their destination when the accident happened.

A. L. Stewart has announced that the bowling alleys will be opened for the season tonight. Frank Heckman will be in charge of the alleys.

The faculty for the high school this year will be as follows: M. R.
McDaniel, principal, science; W. A.
Stockinger, history and commercial branches, Anna O. Marlatt, Latin Helen C. McNeill, German and History; O. D. Tyner, mathematics; Florence R. Wagner, English and Latin; H. B. Wilson, English.

The last reunion of the season was held at the fair grounds yesterday and it was probably one of the most enjoyable affairs held this
reunion of the Hilligoss family and the members living in this county who started the annual event last year are very much elated over the fact that an immense crowd came yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Stella Downey and Dr. Ernest Coffield of Indianapolis will take place at the country home of the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Downey, south of this city, Thursday.

Scott Armstrong, who formerly resided here and has been in the regular army for several years, is here for a short visit with relatives.

Among those who went to Indianapolis today were John Wallace, Frank Redman, Will L. King and Earl Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. William McBride were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Earl Musselman in Indianapolis yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Leora Lloyd and Harry C. Trabue took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd in Spiceland. Miss Lloyd was a popular young woman of Spiceland and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Trabue of Mays and a brother of Sam Trabue of this city.

The members of the Tri Kappa sorority will be entertained by Miss Helen Campbell at her home in North Jackson street Tuesday evening.

Miss May Sullivan returned yesterday from a two week's visit with relatives in Indianapolis.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Republican strategy in the presidential campaign has hurt Democratic pride. In the end, that may be a bad thing for the Republicans, for Democrats, being proud partisans, may be led thereby to redouble their assaults on the G.
O. P.

A woman scorned is not more bitter in her fury than a Democrat disregarded.

The thing that has stung Democratic leaders most deeply so far in the campaign is the studied attempt to make the Davis campaign appear unimportant, even inconsequential.

Chief Republican emphasis is being placed on the La Follette campaign. The psychology back of this movement, of course, is to appear to place the Democratic party in third position.

By doing this, it is figured by G. O. P. strategists, all good conservative votes will be swept into the Coolidge column, since the real conservatives, whether Democratic or Republican, are first and foremost anti-La Follette.

The conservatives in both parties can thus be rounded up under the Coolidge banner, the managers for "Canny Cal" feel they will have accomplished a double purpose.

They will have elected their candidate and simultaneously given Democratic pride and prestige a blow from which it may be long in recovering.

SEPTEMBER, however, will find the Democrats in massed attack in an effort to force some of the salients in the Coolidge fortifications. One of the first points of attack will be the "Republican Campaign Text Book."

In this volume, which consists of more than 400 pages of fine type, is presented the Republican reasons why Coolidge should be re-elected.

Democrats, however, purpose to make the Republican "Text Book" the source for Democratic texts also. But the Democratic sermons will dwell on what the book does not say, rather than on what it does.

Nowhere in the book, for instance, is the name of Harry M.
Daugherty, late attorney general, to be found. Yet the Democrats will point out he was a big part of the administration for which effusive credit is given Coolidge.

Neither is mention made of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, ex-director of the Veterans' Bureau, now under indictment, whose record at the head of the bureau must be included in any fair treatment of Republican achievement, the Dems insist.

With Republicans preaching from the book's admissions, and the Democrats from its omissions, this "Text Book" seems destined to become the campaign "Bible" for both old-line parties.

A NEW Coolidge story has bubbled in Washington. How it will affect the campaign if at all, is not yet determined.

Apocryphal of the president's rather sour visage, one of the younger and less reverent members of the official family is said to have remarked: "Coolidge was wedged on a pickle."

By those who have had occasion to test the rather acid quality of the president's sarcasm, this phrase has been dubbed a stroke of genius.

DR. STANLEY RINEHART at last has his revenge for being the husband of a popular novelist. A life story, prefacing a volume by him on "The Common Sense of Health" says:

"He began his medical practice in Pittsburgh, where in 1896 he
Roberts."

In the bookshops, Mary Roberts Rinehart heretofore has held the spotlight, completely obscuring friend husband. For this once, at least, she is relegated to second
Nurse, Mary Roberts," who became the wife of Dr. Stanley Rinehart.

Kellogg's Bran delights father by bringing health to children

Poor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat ordinary bran. They didn't like them.
Most folks don't. Then their father tried Kellogg's Bran, cooked and kumbled. What a difference! He tells the story in his letter:

"Dear Sirs:

I wish to express my appreciation of your kumbled bran, which I have used for my children this summer.
We had a great deal of trouble with them through constipation, and bran had been the most satisfactory remedy but they could not be induced to take the old varieties . . . because they disliked them so. They enjoy the kumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge.
No one whose children have not been troubled in this way can appreciate the relief there is in having their bowels move regularly."

Creek, Mich.)

Constipation is a dangerous disease.
It should not be neglected. But do not try halfway measures in seeking relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran.
And it takes ALL bran to be 100% effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. The flavor is delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals.
Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes on every package. It will bring you health. Begin eating it to-day.
Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Complain?

We hear many people expressing different opinions of Pocahontas coal as a fuel.
Some say there is no better grade of coal for a furnace. Others don't like it.

Very often the reason for the difference is in the quality of the coal itself. Good Pocahontas makes an ideal fire in a furnace. It holds fire well—makes but few ashes or clinkers —and gets very hot.

But a poor grade of Pocahontas is not satisfactory. It makes many and large clinkers that must be removed. It does not hold fire well, and

But Eddie Sticks On!

The Prince of Wales seems to be having a lot better luck with his riding now. Maybe American horses are tamer, after all, than the British. Anyway, his highness managed to stick in the saddle when he participated in an informal polo game at William R. Grace's country place at Old Westbury, L. I. Reason you don't see "Eddie's" face is that he saw the photographer first and shied aside.

Has an Excellent Polo Team

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 5—When America's "Big Four" was reigning supreme in the polo world, from 1909 to 1914, the nation had reasons to be proud of its place at the top, but the far-sighted critics looked ahead with concern to the day when the "Big Four" would have to be succeeded.

Polo at that time was confined to the wealthy class because of the money needed to get good mounts and because only a wealthy gentleman could find the time necessary to become a skilled player. There were no colleges playing the game then as there are now, and the outlook for developing young players to take the places of the star veteran was very gloomy.

Since then conditions have changed remarkably, however. Most of the big eastern colleges and universities encourage polo and the introduction of the military training made accessible government mounts, which, while not the best polo ponies, were good enough to get the game started. The remarkable development of polo in the last few years was shown strikingly in the last intercollegiate championship matches when a team came clear from the University of Arizona.

This development of interest in the game has made it possible to organize a new "Big Four" team, which critics believe is even better than the original quartet which went to England in 1909, brought the international challenge cup back to the United States and kept it here until 1914.

The team, which will defend the cup in the international matches starting at Meadowbrook Saturday, consists of the great Devereux Milburn, the hero of the original "Big Four" and the greatest player in the world; Tommy Hitchcock, the brilliant young war hero; J. Watson Webb, veteran of the 1921 team, and Malcolm Stevenson.

Milburn, who has been in every international match since he started in 1909, is 43 years of age. He started to play polo at the age of 13, near his home in Buffalo. He continued to play when he was a student at Oxford University from 1899 to 1903, where he also rowed on the crew. Returning to the United States he took a law course at Harvard in 1904, 1905 and 1906, and continued to play with the Myopia Hunt Club team. He played his first international cup match in 1909 and has been the star of every team that has been sent on the field since then.

SECOND ROUND PLAYED IN WESTERN TOURNEY

SCORE IS TWO UNDER PAR

Calumet Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 5—Contenders for the western open golf championship teed off for their second round of 18 holes in the qualifying rounds here today.

A check up of yesterday's cards showed it would probably take two 78's to qualify for the 36 hole round on Saturday. Seventy players shot 80 or better and only the best 64 scores and ties today will qualify.

Scoring honors yesterday went to Al R. Espinoza of Chicago who played a 70, two under par for the 6,634 yard course. Eddie Edd of St. Louis was two strokes behind him and Frank Adams, Chicago, Jock Hendry, St. Paul and Harry Cooper, Dallas, Tex., were next in line with 73's.

Gene Sarazen, former national open champion, telegraphed that a bad cold prevented his attendance, and Bobby Cruikshank also failed to appear. Chick Evans was therefore paired with Jock Hutchison, the defending champion. Chick got a 75 and Jock a 78, both scores being qualifying figures.

Pairings today were the same as yesterday but the starting times were moved up slightly because of withdrawals.

FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—Many Indiana cities and towns will take part in the national campaign to teach school children the importance of good home lighting, according to Frank J. A $15,000 modern electrified home will be the first prize.

PILES OF AMERICAN MONEY AT TWO TO ONE

Supporters of U. S. Polo Team Confident That it Can Defeat British in Saturday's Match

(By United Press)

New York, Sept. 5—Piles of American money offered at 2-1 that the American team defeats the British team in the international polo match starting tomorrow at the Meadowbrook Club is going begging, it was said today at commissioners' offices.

Only two bets so far have been covered, one at $3,600 to $2,000 and the other $4,000 to $2,000 that the Americans win two of the three games and retain the cup.

Some surprise was occasioned today when the British lineup was changed and Louis Lacey, was named field captain of the team to succeed Major Humdahl. Lacey has been bothered with an injured shoulder.

Major T. W. Kirkwood will play No. 1, Major Humdahl No. 2, and Major E. J. Atkinson No. 3, with Lacey back.

The Americans will start with J. Watson Webb, No. 1, Stevenson Hitchcock No. 2, Malcolm Milburn No. 3, and the great Devereux Milburn at back.

Playing Greatest Ball in Big Leagues Brooklyn Takes Fourth Double Header in 4 Days

IN 3 POINTS OF THE GIANTS

(By United Press)

New York, Sept. 5—Playing the greatest ball in the big leagues, the Brooklyn Robins have become the sensation of the year in their dash for the National League pennant.

By taking their fourth double header in four days, the Robins moved up into second place last night within three points of the leading Giants. The Robins have won 13 games in succession, the season's record and have been victorious in 27 of their last 32 games.

Dazzy Vance won his twelfth straight victory and his twenty-fourth game of the season in the 21st game and Dutch Ruether won his first game since July 6th in the second game, Bill Deak, the Cardinal cast off has won seven straight games.

The return to form of Ruether will be of immense help to the club and if he gets going in real form, Brooklyn ought to win.

The Senators gained another game on the Yankees in the American League. The Yanks are going badly and they are handicapped by Ruth's injury.

MOTHER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Charles Lyons, mother of Mrs. John A. Tittsworth of this city, is very seriously ill at her home in Knightstown, being afflicted with spinal meningitis.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Cy Williams, Philadelphia nationals' outfielder, hit a homer in the tenth inning with the bases filled and beat the Giants ten to six.

Taking their fourth double header in four days, the Brooklyn Robins beat the Braves, 5-1 and 9-1, and moved into second place within three points of the Giants.

Three Pirate pitchers failed to stop the Cardinals and St. Louis won, 9 to 5, dumping the Pirates into third place.

Waite Hoyt was driven out of the box in the third inning and the Athletics beat the Yanks, 8-3.

The Senators increased their lead to two full games over the Yankees by walloping the Red Sox 12 to 5.

FINALS IN SINGLES

In the only tournament match at the Memorial Park Tennis court Thursday, Robert Pitman was eliminated after a hard fought three-set battle by H. Tittsworth, who thus earned the right to do battle this afternoon with Arbuckle for the singles championship.

Clears Complexion

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart and back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that coveted attractiveness—that clear skin—the beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clear blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1820 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, blemishes, and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and herbs, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

It is being freely predicted that November hogs will sell for $11.50 to $12.00. At the rate they have advanced the past two weeks this seems to be a conservative estimate.

Due to the scarcity of all classes of hogs and the probability of soft corn, feeders and all other sizes are in demand. Even at the present prices you can afford to take the risk of being cleaned out just as you are about to realize a profit.

Beware of cholera. Prevent it. Do not wait until your hogs are sick. Our prices on serum are lower this year than ever before, and we guarantee to save you money. All of our serum and virus is government inspected.

Mrs. Frank Porter entertained with a six o'clock dinner party Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. V. O. Davis of Macon, Ga., who is visiting here. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lyons and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Moore and Herman Phillips.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Riddle in Arlington Thursday morning at nine o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Bertha, became the bride of A. E. Butler of Indianapolis. The Rev. Mr. Shaw, pastor of the Christian church of Arlington, officiated. Immediately following the ceremony they left on a two weeks trip in the east and upon their return they will be at home to their friends at 3778 Salem street, Indianapolis.

Among the Rushville young people who attended the dance at Dalmbert Hall, Greensburg, Thursday night were: the Misses Joan Weakley, Lillian Priest, Rosalyn Reed, Helen Lambert, Eleanor Lambert, Vera Reynolds, Mildred Retherford, Margaret Giffin, and Richard Clark, Roy Weakley, Earl McNamara, Wilbur Walters, Jules Kiplinger, Jean Kiplinger, Horace Pearsey, Eugene Kelley, John Davis, William Carr, Robert Haydon, Max VanOsdol, Wade Dill, George Kyle, Vernal Trennepohl.

Walter R. Thomas has announced the marriage of his daughter, Miss Helen, to Howard Stiers, which took place Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Indianapolis. Mr. Stiers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stiers, living southeast of the city, and is now employed in Indianapolis. The bride is one of the popular young ladies of this city and the marriage comes as a surprise to her friends here. She attended DePauw University where she was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and is a member of the Tri Kappa sorority here. They will reside in Indianapolis.

Fifty-eight attended the monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Main Street Christian church held Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school department of the church. A splendid program was rendered, being presided over by Mrs. J. J. Amos, the vice president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Wilbur Stiers. Mrs. Eugene Butler conducted the Bible study in a very capable manner and Miss Nelle Trobaugh read a paper on "Recruits for the Larger Fields", which was very interesting. Among the notable personages present were the president of France and the Prince of Wales, but the two spectators who were given the greatest ovation and practically monopolized the attention of the crowd were two Americans, who were sitting near Miss Coleman's party. They were Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Mary Pickford Fairbanks.

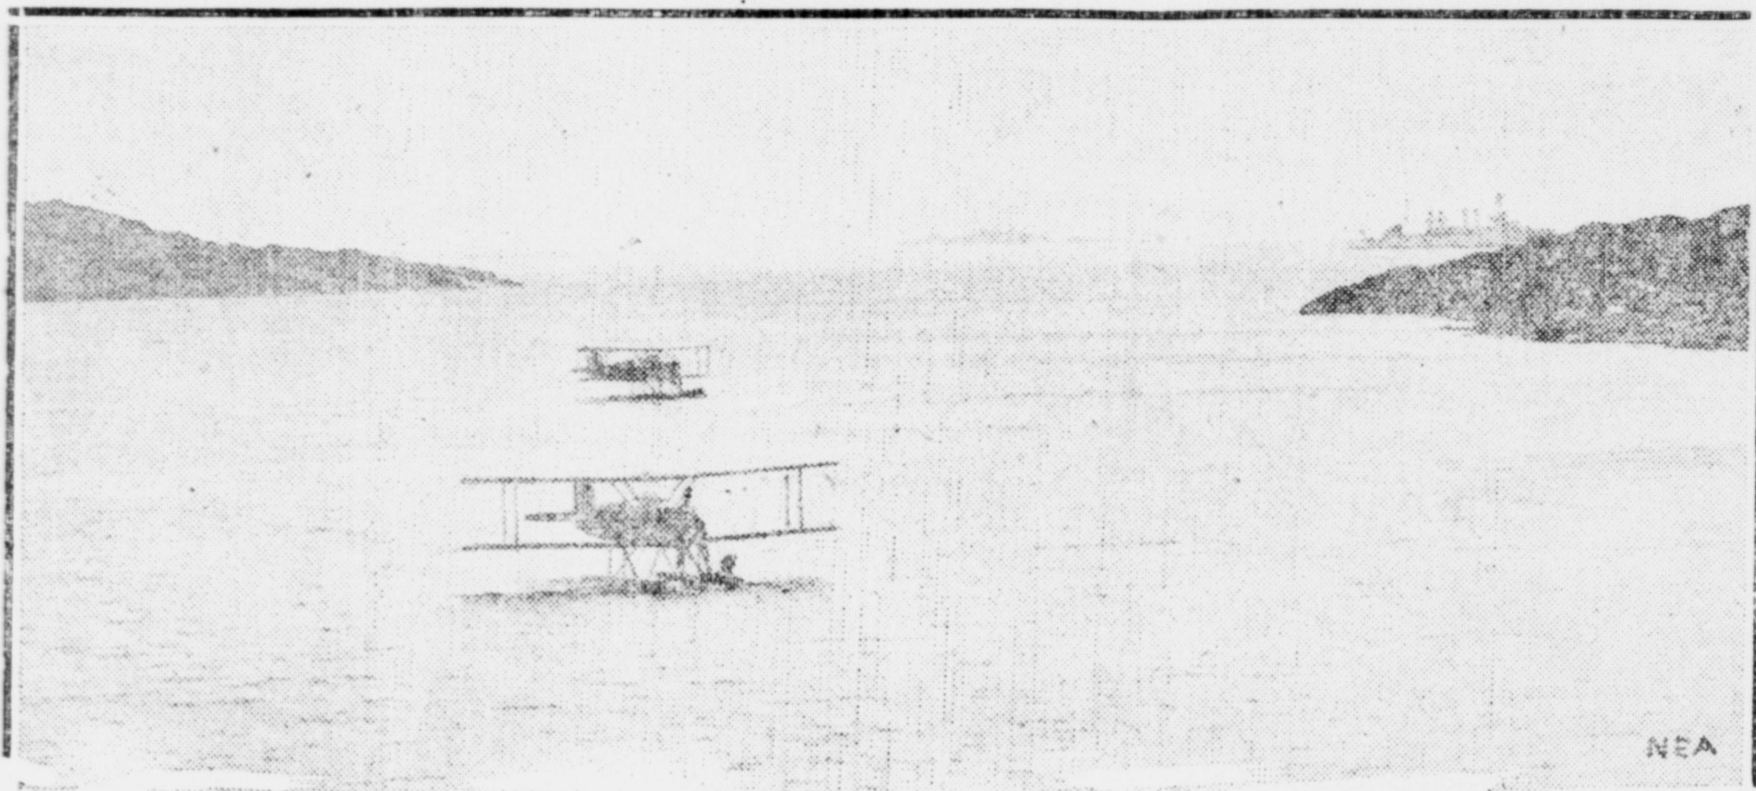

Ralph L. Brown was pleasantly surprised recently at his home southwest of the city when about sixty of his friends came in to remind him of his twenty-second birthday. The house was decorated with bouquets of flowers and the dining room table was centered with a birthday cake lighted with candles. The guests were Rue Mahan of Greensburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown and daughter, Mary Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. BACK IN AMERICA AFTER DASH AROUND THE WORLD wonderfully colorful spectacle. Among the notable personages present were the president of France and the Prince of Wales, but the two spectators who were given the greatest ovation and practically monopolized the attention of the crowd were two Americans, who were sitting near Miss Coleman's party. They were Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Mary Pickford Fairbanks.

Here is the first picture showing the American 'round-the-world flyers back on the North American continent. Their planes are seen settling down in an inlet near Indian Harbor, Labrador. First to skim the water's edge was the Chicago, piloted by Lieutenant Lowell Smith, flight commander. With him was Lieutenant Leslie P. Arnold, his mechanic. Closely following Smith's plane came the New Orleans, piloted by Lieutenant Eric Nelson with Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., as mechanic. This picture was taken by Bob Dorman, NEA Service and Daily Republican staff photographer, who was with the destroyer squadron in arctic water for seven weeks.

In London the party visited the British exposition at Wembley park, which, Miss Coleman said, was an exceedingly interesting spectacle. Although it was not on so large a scale as the "World's Fair" in this country, an especially interesting feature was the industrial building in which were exhibits of practically every article which is manufactured by British subjects.

In London the party was joined by Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Coleman, formerly of this city, for a trip to Scotland. Dr. Coleman has completed a course of study in London and will sail for home tomorrow.

Earl Marlatt, who is well known here, was a member of the party, being accompanied by two proteges, boys from Boston. While abroad he received the news of the death of his mother, which had a saddening effect on the party.

Miss Coleman stated that the members of her party "were wonderful people and came home smiling." This was Miss Coleman's fourth trip to Europe and she is hoping to go again next summer, because as she stated, "There is always something new and worth-while to be seen."

FINISHES COURSE

Glen E. Newkirk, D. C., formerly of this city, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Newkirk, have arrived here for a visit with relatives and friends after a two months automobile tour of Canada and the New England states. Mr. Newkirk completed a two year course in the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa, June 28, and will locate in some Indiana city to practice.

Distinctive Coat

A FALL coat that manages to be both distinguished and conservative is this model of deep blue with simple trimmings of the cloth stitched in gray. The stand-up collar rolls away from the face in a becoming line and the side closing is neat and novel. It may be worn very late in the season.

paper the responsibility was entirely his own, Sherwood, he said, acted in an editorial capacity only.

The present attack is the second one teachers of Indiana have launched against Sherwood since his nomination by the Republican state convention last May.

When Benjamin Barris was considering resigning as superintendent of public instruction to become head of the state normal at Muncie, Sherwood was advanced as the logical man to fill the remainder of the term.

Immediately the teachers put up so vigorous a protest that Barris decided to remain in office temporarily. The basis of the first attack was Sherwood's connection with issuance of alleged fraudulent teachers' training certificates.

Elwood—Elwood has a real mystery. When Fire Chief Stokes opened a small hole in the city flag pole which had been clogged. Water gushed out. City authorities are puzzled as to how the water got in, and hopes are high that the pole has tapped a flowing well.

MOVIES

"The Galloping Ace," Mystic
Jack Hoxie and his famous white saddle horse, "Scout," gallop through one of the fastest action western pictures of the season in the latest Universal production in which the big cowboy actor is starred. "The Galloping Ace," now playing at the Mystic theatre.

It is Hoxie's best picture since "The Red Warning" which was one of the most colorful westerns in which Hoxie has yet appeared. It is of distinct novelty in that it offers besides more than an ordinary allotment of the daring horsemanship and thrilling rides that make up a high class western picture, a prairie battle that rivals a war scene from Flanders.

The climax to a dispute over a marble quarry comes in a "dynamite" war that eclipses the thrilling battle staged during the filming of "The Red Warning."

The cast includes Margaret Morris, a recent Universal "discovery," who plays the romantic lead opposite the star; Robert McKim, famous screen "villain," Frank Rice, Dorothea Wolbert, Julia Brown and Fred Humes.

Of interest in connection with its program for the coming year, Affiliated Distributors, Inc., of New York, sought to determine just what type of picture entertainment is at present proving to be most in demand. They found that the picture must be of feature length, realistic in its settings and acting, containing no superficial or artificial conditions, that no one particular so-called individual star should monopolize the camera, most of the scenes be outdoors and take in big open spaces and beautiful compositions, that the impression created on the mind of the spectator at the finish be one of wholesome admiration for the healthy action, that good old time melodramatic moments which always thrilled and always will thrill, be injected to make suspense and that the plot contain elements of freshness and originality.

The information secured, it was announced recently, had crystallized into a new production which Affiliated Distributors worked on to conform to as great a degree as possible to the "fan" demand. Edwin Carewe, veteran director of outdoor pictures was chosen as general of the forces that were to make the production. Then six stars, namely: Alice Lake, Kenneth Harlan, Rosemary Theby, Gaston Glass, Noah Beery and Wallace Beery were contracted with for the leading parts. Each was picked with a view to his or her qualifications for the role to be played. For realism, the location for the outdoor scenes was made at Truckee, Northern California and not very far south of the Yukon regions in Canada.

Preparation of the picture was featured by attention to every possible detail and the finished product, titled "I am the Law" was released on the market very recently.

Familiarity with the efforts of Affiliated Distributors in this production would necessarily let the support of the Castle theatre to the picture and bookings were concluded this week. We take this opportunity to acquaint you with the showing dates which will be today and Saturday and assure you of our confidence in a production of merit. After witnessing the picture, if it is your idea of good entertainment we should like to know so as to secure further constructive criticism which may be passed on to the producers.

Very truly yours,
Old Baldy, Mgr.

"The Eagle's Feather."

"The Eagle's Feather," a Metro picture of the famous story of the same name by Katherine Newlin Burt, will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre today and Saturday. The story appeared some time ago in Cosmopolitan magazine.

James Kirkwood and Mary Alden head the cast of well known players in "The Eagle's Feather." Mr. Kirkwood's role in this picture is his first since his return recently to Hollywood from New York where he is acting in the Broadway success, "The Fool" was sensational.

Others in the cast are Elinor Fair, Lester Cuneo, William Orlandoff, John Elliott, Charles McHugh and George Siegmann. Incidentally Mr. Siegmann portrays the great role of Danton in Rex Ingram's Metro production of "Scream of Silence" recently announced as completed.

"The Eagle's Feather" is full of thrilling tense episodes, particularly suitable to the screen, and Edward Sloman, the director, is said to have made the most of them. A great deal of the picture was made in the open in the beautiful valley at the foot of the Sierra Mountains in California, and the picture depicts the noble, austere grandeur of this part of the country which is covered with great cattle ranches.

Elwood—Mr. and Mrs. William Cannon were so used to having girls born to them they were non plussed when a baby boy arrived. They have not found a suitable name yet.

DETOURS AND SURFACE CONDITIONS SET OUT IN THE HIGHWAY BULLETIN

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—Every indication points that traffic may use new pavement all the distance between Indianapolis and Lebanon by the first week in October, John D. Williams, state highway director, said today in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin.

Williams pointed out that less than two miles remains to be paved, and allowing 21 days for proper curing, the whole road should be ready for traffic soon after October 1.

At this time traffic can use approximately 19-miles of new pavement on this road by detouring around a bridge at Flackville and at the end of pavement some 3-miles southeast of Lebanon. The Flackville bridge will be opened by the time the last of the new pavement is ready for use.

Excellent progress is reported on No. 22 between Indianapolis and Martinsville with only about 3-miles more pavement to be laid north of Martinsville. However, bridge structures on this road are incomplete, and through traffic is going over No. 12 between these cities.

Marion county paving continues to necessitate a detour out of Indianapolis to reach No. 15, and slow progress is being made paving No. 6 between Shelbyville and a point near New Bethel.

Detours, surface conditions, etc. for the week of September 6-13 are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

—no acid in the battery until we fill it for you

Because Threaded Rubber Insulation can be used in its dry form, the new Willard Battery can be kept bone dry up to the very moment of its sale to the car owner.

And because charged plates are used, this battery needs only to be filled with acid to put it in service.

by a fire of unknown origin.

church Thursday morning the discovery was made. The church build-
building is being built.

nished and a can of varnish is be-
men left Wednesday night. The varnish was destroyed, and the fumes
prevented the blaze from spreading.
Insurance was carried on the building, which will cover the loss.

Frank Warrick, living north of Rushville, received honorable men-
omics school in Indianapolis this week.
The winners of the university schol-
the school.

Persons Who Have Changed Pre-
cincts or Become of Age Since

Boards Will be in Session in Each Voting Precinct—Two Other Me-

6.

All who have changed pre-
come of age since the last election should register.

fore you can vote.
Registration boards will be in
Day.

Because a registration of voters
tration.

Only one registration day will be
that will be on Monday, October 6,
twenty-nine days before the election,
for voting.

tration law so that it would not be
with much trouble and expense.

or more voters petition for a registration, one shall be held. This provision is to meet the situation in large cen-

county health commissioner to certify to the county auditor the names of
records.

court since the last election.

tion records for each precinct.

Registration Day or who will not
have the time to register at the regu-
hand.

county auditor's office, fill it out and
Registration Day.

Day.

The registration boards in each

ists, Has Distinction of Returning
Family in Spain. Ten Weeks Were

ing on her recent European trip. Miss
after a ten weeks trip to the Continent, where she toured France, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Eng-
party returned on the S. S. Beren-
America.

Miss Coleman stated that the Prince seemed very democratic and friendly, and although he was formally presented to only a few of his
into their activities. At all times, however, he was surrounded by mem-
sport aboard ship, one of his per-

The Prince, stated Miss Coleman, is very youthful in appearance, appearing to be about twenty-one, although his age is really about thirty years. When taking his daily walk on deck, he was informally attired, usually in a grey lounge suit, blue shirt,

caught their first glimpse of royalty
and her two daughters.

In France, the party also attended the opening of the Olympic games, which Miss Coleman stated, was a

Teachers Association to Have G.

A. [Walt], Republican state chair-
attention to charges against H. N.
candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—A drive
to force removal of H. N. Sherwood,
ticket as candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, was be-
teachers' federation.

Oscar Williams, representing officers of the federation, appeared before Clyde Walt, Republican state
gazine they formerly published.

Williams indicated that presenta-
be removed from the ticket.

Sherwood and Blackburn continued to accept money for subscriptions long after their paper, the Edu-
by Williams.

Answering Williams' charges,

tlement From Invaders

(By United Press)

Shanghai, China, Sept. 5—General
Yuan's forces bent on storming
miles from the city.

the day.

Three of the American destroyers
land mines to guard the border of
fending armies retreated farther.

ships.

The native city was panic stricken
by the advance of the enemy. Business was suspended and Chinese
flooded to the foreign settlements,
presence of the terrified refugees.

front.

This advancing troops burned Quin-
and wounded.

several villagers, arrived here today.
Airplanes belonging to the attacking forces bombed Nansung.

pected at Li Ho.

along the ten mile water front at Shanghai.

signed by Gen. L. R. Gignilliat, commander at the Culver Military Academy, for use in Indiana on Defense
Day. The design was approved by the state committee appointed by Gov.
onstration of Indiana's defense resources on September 12. The emblem is especially appropriate for use as a badge of honor by all who enroll
for service on Defense Day.

Col. F. W. Glover, secretary of the
should be fully understood that the
the willingness of the American peo-
emergency.

by County Chairman Vorhees Carvitt to prepare plans, and a program for
a demonstration at Memorial park, Rushville, in which all the townships

099, the previous Thursday record being 57,244 set in 1917. Total attendance for the first four days was 181,949, more than 12,000 in excess of the attendance a year ago.

A record breaking crowd was not expected today as the fair closes tonight and many exhibitors were already preparing to leave the fair grounds.

Judging of livestock was continued throughout the day in an effort to have all awards made before tonight.
Governor Branch and Dr. Carleton McCulloch and Ed Jackson, candidates for governor, attended the fair yesterday.

Dedication of the $51,000 Purdue university exposition building and the annual Purdue reunion attracted many.

William M. Jones, secretary of the state board of agriculture, announced the fair would be the most successful financially of any fair ever held in the state.

PURDUE TRIALS SHOW SILEAGE CUTS COST OF PRODUCING MILK

A comparison between two dairy rations, one consisting of alfalfa hay, a good grain mixture but no silage, made at the Purdue University Agricultural Experiment station showed that the ration containing a succulent roughage produced milk for fifteen cents per hundred pounds less than the no-silage ration, and animals fed this ration maintained their live weight during the test while the cows receiving the no-silage ration lost in live weight. The two rations were compared under similar conditions and were conducted in such a way that they apply to any dairy farm in Indiana.

The grain ration consisted of a mixture of ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran, gluten feed, and cottonseed meal. The grain was fed according to the amount of milk produced daily. The alfalfa hay was fed at the rate of two pounds per day for each hundred pounds live weight with the no-silage ration, while only half this amount was fed with the silage ration. Silage was fed according to the live weight of the animals, about three pounds being allowed daily for each hundred pounds live weight.

Records were kept of the milk and butterfat produced. The animals were so selected that the two groups (4 cows in each group) produced practically the same amounts of milk at the start. Group 1, or the silage fed group, increased their production for a short time while the other group began to decrease in production immediately.

As the stage of lactation advanced, the production would of necessity decrease, but Group 1 maintained their production much more evenly and over a longer period than the other group. The difference in maintaining live weight must also be considered. Group 1 maintained their live weight, while the other group lost about one and one-half pounds per animal per day during the time the no-silage ration was fed. This loss in live weight was not due to under-feeding. When calculated according to modern feeding standards, the no silage ration provided 53 per cent more protein than the required amount, and 35 per cent more than the ration fed to Group 1.

The feed required to produce 100 pounds of milk by each ration is of importance. Group 1 (silage group) required 25.8 pounds grain, 39.3 pounds hay, and 11.29 pounds silage for each 100 pounds of milk produced. Group 2 required 27.5 pounds grain and 88.4 pounds hay. This shows that 119.2 silage replaced 49.1 pounds of hay and 1.7 pounds of grain. Figuring grain at $2.00 per hundred and alfalfa at $15.00 per ton, the silage returned $6.75 per ton.
But this is not all. Group 1 produced 15 per cent more milk during the test than the no-silage group.

The comparison between the two rations indicates three advantages in favor of the use of silage in the ration:

1. Saving in the cost of production of 15 cents per hundred pounds of milk.
2. Maintaining live weight of animals.
3. Increase of 15 per cent in milk production.

The results of this comparison would seem to indicate the advisability of more general use of silage in Indiana. This is especially true where a liberal supply of alfalfa hay is not available and the corn crop is not ensiled. Not only is the corn feeder less palatable than the silage but considerable waste occurs when the crop is being fed during the winter.

Silage offers splendid opportunity for conserving crops that are not fully matured. Large acreages of corn had to be replanted this season.
Unless the growing season is unusually long, much of this will fail to mature. If cut and placed in a silo, and feeding value will be increased.

Merchant Financial Wreck

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of May's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved.
It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

and the feeding period will be greatly extended.

During the past four years the number of silos has decreased, while the number of cows has increased 30,000. Indiana, situated in the corn belt produces large quantities of corn annually, which if ensiled would form one of the best and most satisfactory roughage known to dairymen. It requires less barn room to house the crop as silage than as fodder; the feed is much more uniform in quality; less waste occurs in feeding, and a feed of greater palatability is produced.

Silage is a valuable feed in the ration providing succulence, bulk, and palatability. Every Hoosier dairyman should provide silage for his herd, and thus insure more efficient production, which will in turn result in increased profit.

The Prince of Wales went to the races at Belmont Park, L. I., as plain "Edward Windsor." But that didn't fool folks in the slightest. The heir to the British throne was having a wonderful time until an army of cameramen took up his trail. He is seen here conversing with his hostess, Mrs. August Belmont, looking all the world like a bashful schoolboy.

The Ancients

The Department of Agriculture of Egypt has seeds which were found in age-proof containers in the tomb of King Tutankhamen which they will endeavor to propagate at their Agricultural Research Laboratories. These seeds may represent herbs containing medicinal properties that this age and generation knows not of. It was the simple roots and herbs of the field that half a century ago produced Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has never been equalled in overcoming ailments peculiar to women.

There is one bit of testimony presented at the coroner's inquest into the Herrin (Ill.) "klan murders" that probably will not go into the records exactly the way it was given. It concerns Jane Lasater, official stenographer at the inquisition. Miss Lasater had to listen to listen to Charles Denham, sitting right across from her, accuse her of being present at the rioting in front of Smith's garage. Denham, an admitted klansman, said she was in an automobile occupied by State's Attorney Delos L. Duty and City Judge E. W. Bowen, and that Duty and Bowen fired at klansmen. Miss Lasater's face registered both scorn and amusement as Denham made his charges. Just back of her may be seen a young militiaman, wearing a steel helmet and with bayonet in gun, standing guard during the proceedings.

FLIERS SIGHTED

the first to take the air, rising from the water at 11:17 a. m. (correct) eastern daylight time and circling over the bay for their long flight to Boston.

Lieut. Wade was having trouble with the Boston II and was still taxiing back and forth.

Smith and Nelson continued hovering over him.

The ill luck which has attended Wade since the start for the Orkneys continued. He taxied back and forth using every trick known in an effort to get the heavy Boston II to take the air.

Observers thought the machine might be burdened too heavy with oil and gas. Smith and Nelson circled slowly overhead, obviously determined to give their comrade every opportunity to get away with them, although they were wasting valuable time.

A telephone message from the eastern end of Pictou opposite the lighthouse said the Boston left the water just after passing the light station.

The planes finally disappeared in the haze to the eastward at 11:44.

Owing to poor visibility it was impossible to tell at the moment whether Lieut. Wade had succeeded in getting the Boston II off the water but since the droning of his motor could not be heard it was assumed he had managed to get the machine in the air and was on the way to Boston with his companions.

God is merciful—Thou art a God read to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness. Nehemiah 9: 17.Prayer:—O God, may Thy mercy enable us to turn from every evil way unto Thee and in Thy mercy live.The Rewards of WorkThe appointment of Seymour Parker Gilbert at the age of 31 years to
the possibilities of hard work.Young Gilbert started out early to work and his industry and applica-
men far beyond his years.After taking numerous college degrees, he became associated with a New York firm, where his ability was
cate transactions of the government,
having to do with the foreign loans,
and became the most trusted subordinate of Secretaries Glass and Houston.Gilbert is credited with having written the veto message which President Wilson sent to congress disapproving the legislative apporportionment bill, which was sustained by congress.When the administration changed
fairs of the treasury department.The amazing ability of this as-
is explained by his devotion to work.
While others of his age were wasting
his desk working out the problems that fell to his office.He regarded holidays as good days to work. He made very few excursions into the realms of goldfand and when he did perform some social ob-
worked well into the night.Any young man can accomplish as great results in proportion to his
diligent and sustained effort.This is the thing every boy will
chosen field of endeavor.Walter Corbin's Hay Fever GoneBarnesville Man, Suffering Three Years, Praises Kerker Remedy"There's nothing better for hay fever than Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy," is the statement of Walter Corbin, bricklayer, residing at 217 Franklin St., Barnesville, Ohio."I had the hay fever for three years," continues Mr. Corbin. "I had an awful time with my nose and sneezed all the time. I took Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy in the summer of 1922 and it cleaned up the hay fever entirely. It is wonderful."(Signed) "WALTER CORBIN" "217 Franklin St., Barnesville, O."Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy, produced by Kerker Medicine Co., Zanesville, O., is sold by druggists Harzgrove and Brown.High School HazingA Hartford City boy was killed in a fight growing out of an effort to
the victim of a high school hazing.With the opening of school, the
be at its height.In moderation, it would not be subject to condemnation, but the tendency of boys is to carry it to extreme.When boys lives are sacrificed for a
end to hazing.High school boys think it is an es-
it, but it is far from necessary.Colleges have banned some of the
similar steps.Bootleg BondsA tax-free bond is a bootleg bond in that the profit to its owner,
pay its just share toward govern-
government expense.The tax-free bond is legal, however,
action.Simple justice demands that our
greater security.Why permit the profits from this class of securities to remain on a
to the government, which necessitates other taxpayers carrying a
double burden to maintain the cost of government?FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAYFrom Daily Republican Monday, Sept. 6, 1909Three women and a man were spilled in the road near Arlington
when their horse scared at a motorcycle ridden by the deputy auditor
of Hancock county. Mr. and Mrs.
William Brown, Mrs. Lydia Gregg
and Mrs. Brown's cousin, Miss Brown of Cincinnati, were on their
spend the day and had almost reached their destination when the accident happened.A. L. Stewart has announced that
will be in charge of the alleys.The faculty for the high school this year will be as follows: M. R.
McDaniel, principal, science; W. A.
Stockinger, history and commercial
branches, Anna O. Marlatt, Latin; Helen C. McNitt, German and History; O. D. Tyner, mathematics; Florence R. Wagner, English and Latin; H. B. Wilson, English.The last reunion of the season was held at the fair grounds yester-
yesterday.The marriage of Miss Stella Downey and Dr. Ernest Coffield of India-
ents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Downey, south of this city, Thursday.Scott Armstrong, who formerly resided here and has been in the regular army for several years, is here for a short visit with relatives.Among those who went to Indianapolis today were John Wallace,
Earl Payne.Mr. and Mrs. William McBride were the guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Earl Musselman in Indianapolis yesterday.The marriage of Miss Leora Lloyd
and Harry C. Trabue took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's
in Spiceland. Miss Lloyd was a popular young woman of Spiceland and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Trabue of Mays and a brother of Sam Trabue of this city.The members of the Tri Kappa society will be entertained by Miss Helen Campbell at her home in North Jackson street Tuesday evening.Miss May Sullivan returned yesterday from a two week's visit with relatives in Indianapolis.Kokomo—Charles Mill, 29, negro race driver may not race for a while shooting his wife.HUNT'S DAILY LETTERBY HARRY B. HUNT NEA Service WriterWASHINGTON — Republican strategy in the presidential

campaign has hurt Democratic pride. In the end, that may be a bad thing for the Republicans,
for Democrats, being proud partisans, may be led thereby to re-
double their assaults on the G.
O. P.A woman scorned is not more bitter in her fury than a Democrat disregarded.The thing that has stung Democratic leaders most deeply so far
attempt to make the Davis candidacy appear unimportant, even inconsequential.Chief Republican emphasis is be-
candidate. The psychology back
party in third position.By doing this, it is figured by G. O. P. strategists, all good conservative votes will be swept into
the Coolidge column, since the real conservatives, whether Democratic or Republican, are, first and foremost, anti-La Follette.If the conservatives in both
they will have accomplished a double purpose.They will have elected their
given Democratic pride and prestige a blow from which it may be long in recovering.SEPTEMBER, however, will find the Democrats in massed attack in an effort to force some
fortifications. One of the first
points of attack will be the "Republican Campaign Text Book."In this volume, which consists
type, is presented the Republican
re-elected.Democrats, however, purpose to make the Republican "Text Book" the source for Democratic textsalso. But the Democratic sermons
does.Nowhere in the book, for instance, is the name of Harry M.
Daugherty, late attorney general,
will point out he was a big part
effusive credit is given Coolidge.Neither is mention made of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, ex-
director of the Veterans' Bureau, now under indictment, whose record at the head of the bureau must be included in any fair treatment
Democrats insist.With Republicans preaching
the Democrats from its omissions,
this "Text Book" seems destined
to become the campaign "Bible" for both old-line parties.A NEW Coolidge story has bubbled in Washington. How
at all, is not yet determined.Appropos of the president's rather sour visage, one of the younger and less reverent mem-
have remarked: "Coolidge was weary on a pickle."By those who have had occasion
the president's sarcasm, this
of genius.DR. STANLEY RINEHART at last has his revenge for be-
novelist. A life story, prefacing a volume by him on "The Common Sense of Health" says:"He began his medical practice in Pittsburg, where in 1896 he
Roberts."In the bookshops, Mary Roberts Rinehart heretofore has held the
her husband. For this, once, at least, she is relegated to second
Nurse, Mary Roberts" who became the wife of Dr. Stanley Rinehart.The Hodge-Podge ermen who tell big fish stories also.The enemies some men have are a fiction.People we dislike most are people by bringing health to childrenPoor little kids—they needed bran badly. But they wouldn't eat ordinary bran. They didn't like them.

Most folks don't. Then their father
crumbled. What a difference! He

"Dear Sirs:

I wish to express my appreciation of your bran flakes, which I have used for my children this summer.
We had a great deal of trouble with
had been the most satisfactory rem-
crumbled bran and consider it an essential ingredient of their porridge.
bowels move regularly."

Creek, Mich.)Constipation is a dangerous disease.
It should not be neglected. But do
relief. Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran.
And it takes ALL bran to be 100%
effective. Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, if
turn your money.Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in
delicious. Sprinkle it on other cereals.
Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the
you health. Begin eating it to-day.
Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.A SAFE INVESTMENTA checking account with this bank is one of

Complain?We hear many people expressing different opinions of Pocahontas coal as a fuel.
Some say there is no better grade of coal for a furnace. Others don't like it.Very often the reason for the difference is in the quality of the coal itself. Good Poca-
—and gets very hot.But a poor grade of Pocahontas is not satisfactory. It makes many and large clink-
fire well, and it does not make sufficient heat.
Sometimes one is annoyed by finding even that the fire goes out.It is always our endeavor to get the best quality of Pocahontas that we can find.J. P. FRAZEE & SON*PEACHES PEACHES

REMAINS SUPERINTENDENT

Clay City, Ind., Sept. 4—Dr. J. B. Parsons, Indianapolis, today retained the superintendency of White River conference of the United Brethren in Christ. He was unanimously reelected for another year at the annual conference here yesterday.

But Eddie Sticks On!

The Prince of Wales seems to be having a lot better luck with his riding now. Maybe American horses are tamer, after all, than the British. Anyway, his highness managed to stick in the saddle when he participated in an informal polo game at William R. Grace's country place at Old Westbury, L. I. Reason you don't see "Eddie's" face is that he saw the photographer first and shied aside.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 5—When America's "Big Four" was reigning supreme in the polo world, from 1909 to 1914, the nation had reasons to be proud of its place at the top, but the far-sighted critics looked ahead with concern to the day when the "Big Four" would have to be succeeded.

Polo at that time was confined to the wealthy class because of the money needed to get good mounts and because only a wealthy gentleman could find the time necessary to become a skilled player. There were no colleges playing the game then as there are now, and the outlook for developing young players to take the places of the star veteran was very gloomy.

Since then conditions have changed remarkably, however. Most of the big eastern colleges and universities encourage polo and the introduction of the military training made accessible government mounts, which, while not the best polo ponies, were good enough to get the game started. The remarkable development of polo in the last few years was shown strikingly in the last intercollegiate championship matches when a team came clear from the University of Arizona.

This development of interest in the game has made it possible to organize a new "Big Four" team, which critics believe is even better than the original quartet which went to England in 1909, brought the international challenge cup back to the United States and kept it here until 1914.

The team, which will defend the cup in the international matches starting at Meadowbrook Saturday, consists of the great Devereux Milburn, the hero of the original "Big Four" and the greatest player in the world; Tommy Hitchcock, the brilliant young war hero; J. Watson Webb, veteran of the 1921 team; and Malcolm Stevenson.

Milburn, who has been in every international match since he started in 1909, is 43 years of age. He started to play polo at the age of 13, near his home in Buffalo. He continued to play when he was a student at Oxford University from 1899 to 1903, where he also rowed on the crew. Returning to the United States he took a law course at Harvard in 1904, 1905 and 1906, and continued to play with the Myopia Hunt Club team. He played his first international cup match in 1909 and has been the star of every team that has been sent on the field since then.

Nayatt, R. I., Sept. 5—Miss Mary K. Browne, former national tennis champion, of California, defeated Miss Glenn Collett of Providence, former national golf champion, one up in 19 holes in the semi-finals of the women's national championship here today.

Calumet Country Club, Chicago, Sept. 5—Contenders for the western open golf championship teed off for their second round of 18 holes in the qualifying rounds here today.

A check up of yesterday's cards showed it would probably take two 75's to qualify for the 36 hole route on Saturday. Seventy players shot 80 or better and only the best 64 scores and ties today will qualify.

Scoring honors yesterday went to Al. R. Espinoza of Chicago who played a 70, two under par for the 6,634 yard course. Eddie Held of St. Louis was two strokes behind him and Frank Adams, Chicago, Jack Hendry, St. Paul and Harry Cooper, Dallas, Tex., were next in line with 73's.

Gene Sarazen, former national open champion, telegraphed that a bad cold prevented his attendance, and Bobby Cruikshank also failed to appear. Chick Evans was therefore paired with Jack Hutchison, the defending champion. Chick got a 75 and Jack a 78, both scores being qualifying figures.

Pairings today were the same as yesterday but the starting times were moved up slightly because of withdrawals.

A $15,000 modern electrified home will be the first prize.

Supporters of U. S. Polo Team Confident That it Can Defeat British in Saturday's Match

(By United Press)

New York, Sept. 5—Piles of American money offered at 2-1 that the American team defeats the British team in the international polo match starting tomorrow at the Meadowbrook Club is going berserk, it was said today at commissioners' offices.

Only two bets so far have been covered, one at $3,600 to $2,000 and the other $4,000 to $2,000 that the Americans win two of the three games and retain the cup.

Some surprise was occasioned today when the British lineup was changed and Louis Lacey, was named field captain of the team to succeed Major Humdahl. Lacey has been bothered with an injured shoulder.

Major T. W. Kirkwood will play No. 1, Major Humdahl No. 2, and Major E. J. Atkinson No. 3, with Lacey back.

The Americans will start with J. Watson Webb, No. 1, Tommy Hitchcock No. 2, Malcolm Stevenson No. 3, and the great Devereux Milburn at back.

Playing Greatest Ball in Big Leagues Brooklyn Takes Fourth Double Header in 4 Days

(By United Press)

New York, Sept. 5—Playing the greatest ball in the big leagues, the Brooklyn Robins have become the sensation of the year in their dash for the National League pennant.

By taking their fourth double header in four days, the Robins moved up into second place last night within three points of the leading Giants. The Robins have won 13 games in succession, the season's record and have been victorious in 27 of their last 32 games.

Daddy Vance won his twelfth straight victory and his twenty fourth game of the season in the 21st game and Dutch Ruether won his first game since July 6th in the second game. Bill Deak, the Cardinal cast off has won seven straight games.

The return to form of Ruether will be of immense help to the club and if he gets going in real form, Brooklyn ought to win.

The Senators gained another game on the Yankees in the American League. The Yanks are going badly and they are handicapped by Ruth's injury.

Mrs. Charles Lyons, mother of Mrs. John A. Tiftworth of this city, is very seriously ill at her home in Knightstown, being afflicted with spinal meningitis.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Cy Williams, Philadelphia nationals' outfielder, hit a homer in the tenth inning with the bases filled and beat the Giants ten to 6.

Taking their fourth double header in four days, the Brooklyn Robins beat the Braves, 5-1 and 9-1, and moved into second place within three points of the Giants.

Three Pirate pitchers failed to stop the Cardinals and St. Louis won, 9 to 5, dumping the Pirates into third place.

Waite Hoyt was driven out of the box in the third inning and the Athletics beat the Yanks, 8-3.

The Senators increased their lead to two full games over the Yankees by walloping the Red Sox 12 to 5.

In the only tournament match at the Memorial Park Tennis courts Thursday, Robert Pitman was eliminated after a hard fought three-set battle by H. Tiftworth, who thus earned the right to do battle this afternoon with Arbuckle for the singles championship.

Clears Complexion

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying—fear that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that coveted for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1820 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

$12 HOGS IN NOVEMBER?

It is being freely predicted that November hogs will sell for $11.50 to $12.00. At the rate they have advanced the past two weeks this seems to be a conservative estimate.

Due to the scarcity of all classes of hogs and the probability of soft corn, feeders and all other sizes are in demand. Even at the present prices can you afford to take the risk of being cleaned out just as you are about to realize a profit?

Beware of cholera. Prevent it. Do not wait until your hogs are sick. Our prices on serum are lower this year than ever before, and we guarantee to save you money. All of our serum and virus is government inspected.

Closely following Smith's plane came the New Orleans, piloted by Lieutenant Eric Nelson with Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., as mechanic. wonderfully colorful spectacle. Among the notable personages present were the president of France and the Prince of Wales, but the two spectators who were given the greatest ovation and practically monopolized the attention of the crowd were two Americans, who were sitting near Miss Coleman's party. They were Douglas Fairbanks and Mrs. Mary Pickford Fairbanks.

In London the party visited the British exposition at Wembley park, which, Miss Coleman said, was an exceedingly interesting spectacle. Although it was not on so large a scale as the "World's Fair" in this country, an especially interesting feature was the industrial building in which were exhibits of practically every article which is manufactured by British subjects.

In London the party was joined by Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Coleman, formerly of this city, for a trip to Scotland. Dr. Coleman has completed a course of study in London and will sail for home tomorrow.

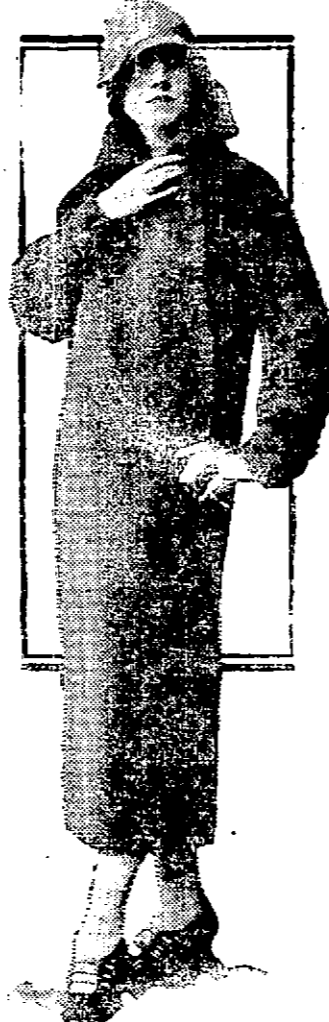

Earl Marlatt, who is well known here, was a member of the party, being accompanied by two proteges, boys from Boston. While abroad he received the news of the death of his mother, which had a saddening effect on the party.

Miss Coleman stated that the members of her party "were wonderful people and came home smiling." This was Miss Coleman's fourth trip to Europe and she is hoping to go again next summer, because as she stated, "There is always something new and worth-while to be seen."

Glen E. Newkirk, D. C., formerly of this city, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Newkirk, have arrived here for a visit with relatives and friends after a two months automobile tour of Canada and the New England states. SECOND EFFORT TO OUST SHERWOOD paper the responsibility was entirely his own. Sherwood, he said, acted in an editorial capacity only.

When Benjamin Burris was considering resigning as superintendent of public instruction to become head of the state normal at Muncie, Sherwood was advanced as the logical man to fill the remainder of the term.

Immediately the teachers put up so vigorous a protest that Burris decided to remain in office temporarily. The basis of the first attack was Sherwood's connection with issuance of alleged fraudulent teachers' training certificates.

Jack Hoxie and his famous white saddle horse, "Scout," gallop through one of the fastest action western pictures of the season in the latest Universal production in which the big cowboy actor is starred. "The Galloping Ace," now playing at the Mystic theatre.

It is Hoxie's best picture since "The Red Warning" which was one of the most colorful westerns in which Hoxie has yet appeared. It is of distinct novelty in that it offers besides more than an ordinary allotment of the daring horsemanship and thrilling rides that make up a high class western picture, a prairie battle that rivals a war scene from Flanders.

The climax to a dispute over a marble quarry comes in a "dynamite" war that eclipses the thrilling battle staged during the filming of "The Red Warning."

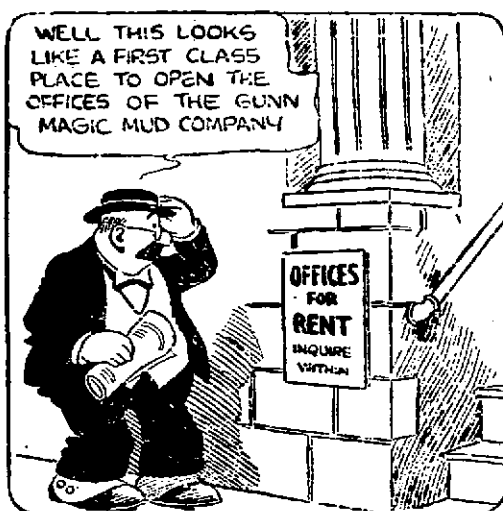

The cast includes Margaret Morris, a recent Universal "discovery," who plays the romantic lead opposite the star; Robert McKim, famous screen "villain," Frank Rice, Dorothea Wulbert, Julia Brow and Fred Homes.

Of interest in connection with its program for the coming year, Allied Distributors, Inc., of New York, sought to determine just what type of picture entertainment is at present proving to be most in demand. They found that the picture must be of feature length, realistic in its settings and acting, containing no superficial or artificial conditions, that no one particular so-called individual star should monopolize the camera, most of the scenes be outdoors and take in big open spaces and beautiful compositions, that the impression created on the mind of the spectator at the finish be one of wholesome admiration for the healthy action, that good old time melodramatic moments which always thrilled and always will thrill, be injected to make suspense and that the plot contain elements of freshness and originality.

The information secured, it was announced recently, had crystallized into a new production which Allied Distributors worked on to conform to as great a degree as possible to the "fan" demand. Edwin Carewe, veteran director of outdoor pictures was chosen as general of the forces that were to make the production. Then six stars, namely: Alice Lake, Kenneth Harlan, Rosemary Theby, Gaston Glass, Noah Beery and Wallace Beery were contracted with for the leading parts. Each was picked with a view to his or her qualifications for the role to be played. For realism, the location for the outdoor scenes was made at Truckee, Northern California and not very far south of the Yukon regions in Canada.

Preparation of the picture was featured by attention to every possible detail and the finished product, titled "I am the Law" was released on the market very recently.

Familiarity with the efforts of Allied Distributors in this production would necessarily let the support of the Castle theatre to the picture and bookings were concluded this week. We take this opportunity to acquaint you with the showing dates which will be today and Saturday and assure you of our confidence in a production of merit. After witnessing the picture, if it is your idea of good entertainment we should like to know so as to secure further constructive criticism which may be passed on to the producers.

Very truly yours,
Old Baldy, Mgr.

"The Eagle's Feather," a Metro picture of the famous story of the same name by Katherine Newlin Bart, will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre today and Saturday. The story appeared some time ago in Cosmopolitan magazine.

Others in the cast are Elinor Fair, Lester Cuneo, William Orlamon, John Elliott, Charles McHugh and George Siegmund. Incidentally Mr. Siegmund portrays the great role of Danton in Rex Ingram's Metro production of "Scaramouche" recently announced as completed.

suitable to the screen, and Edward Sloman, the director, is said to have made the most of them. A great deal of the picture was made in the open in the beautiful valley at the foot of the Sierra Mountains in California, and the picture depicts the noble, austere grandeur of this part of the country which is covered with great cattle ranches.

Elwood—Mr. and Mrs. William Cannon were so used to having girls born to them they were non plussed when a baby boy arrived. They have not found a suitable name yet.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5—Every indication points that traffic may use new pavement all the distance between Indianapolis and Lebanon by the first week in October. John D. Williams, state highway director, said today in the commission's weekly traffic bulletin.

Williams pointed out that less than two miles remains to be paved, and allowing 21 days for proper curing, the whole road should be ready for traffic soon after October 1.

At this time traffic can use approximately 19 miles of new pavement on this road by detouring around a bridge at Blackville and at the end of pavement some 3 miles southeast of Lebanon. The Blackville bridge will be opened by the time the last of the new pavement is ready for use.

Excellent progress is reported on No. 22 between Indianapolis and Martinsville with only about 3 miles more pavement to be laid north of Martinsville. However, bridge structures on this road are incomplete, and through traffic is going over No. 12 between these cities.

Marion county paving continues to necessitate a detour out of Indianapolis to reach No. 15, and slow progress is being made paving No. 6 between Shelbyville and a point near New Bethel.

Detours, surface conditions, etc. for the week of September 6-13 are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

No. 1—Pavement from Indianapolis to Kokomo but traffic should drive carefully over three roadside run-arounds at bridge projects near the Hamilton-Tipton county line. This Is The Way We Do It Now

Because Threaded Rubber Insulation can be used in its dry form, the new Willard Battery can be kept bone dry up to the very moment of its sale to the car owner.
